A way to restart Adobe After Effects can be restating it from a machine reboot. Do a windows start-up repair using the windows "windows loading" dialog in the following manner: Press f12 to open the "quick startup" dialog. Toggle through the available startup options. Select "Repair my computer". When the repair starts, it should automatically repair your Adobe After Effects installation.

If not, after the repair is done, click the "Repair" button.

If all else fails, you can always uninstall After Effects using the software's uninstall button, and reinstall Adobe After Effects via the software's installer.
