's tough for you, but it's also tough for our network, and we don't have a lot of money to spare. I know this is important to you, and I sympathize with your frustration. I'm going to ask you to please be patient and allow time to see how things develop. We've said all along that we will work to bring you the continued programming you've come to expect from us and like the one you can expect this year. We just need a little more time. I'll also be sending out a notice this week with more details on our programming plans, including programming updates and some information on the tough financial times we're dealing with. As always, you can always talk with me directly and I'll try to explain why we're doing things in a certain way. Again, I'm sorry this is taking so long, but we really are working very hard to make this happen for you. I'll also be sending some positive news and encouraging words our affiliates about the good work we're doing. In the meantime, I want to make sure you know that the IMAX brand is very important to us and we're going to do everything we can to continue to bring you high-quality IMAX content. I'm looking forward to meeting and getting to know you at this year's IMAX Convention in Orlando. I hope to see you there, and it was such a pleasure to see you in Toronto a few years ago. I can't wait to see what we can do together in the future. Risk factors associated with advanced liver fibrosis in chronic hepatitis C virus infection. The presence of cirrhosis is currently considered a universal hepatic manifestation of chronic hepatitis C. Recently, the International Network on Hepatitis C (INHC) introduced the term "advanced liver fibrosis (ALF)" to describe the presence of significant fibrosis but not cirrhosis. We analysed the association of HIV infection, alcohol consumption, age, gender and body mass index (BMI) with ALF by using the 6d1f23a050
